WORKERS WILL BALK

Shoppers Are Certain to Reject Plan Held Out
by Harding.

(By the Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Aug. 9.—Leaders of the striking railroad shopcrafts in city occupied themselves today with preparing for the general meeting of the railroad union officials which they expect to hold Friday and with the issuance of a statement declaring railroad equipment to be in a dangerously deteriorated condition.

B. M. Jewell, chairman of the striking group, received notice from Warren S. Stone, chief of the engineers' brotherhood, that all of the other brotherhood heads would accept the invitation to the conference. T. H. Davis, chairman of the general shopcrafts committee of the Pennsylvania System, headed a delegation of representative men at work which called at the White House and asked President Harding not to countenance any strike settlement which would injure the seniority status of the men who remained in the railroad service in spite of the strike. About 65 per cent of the Pennsylvania shop employees, Mr. Davis asserted, stayed on the job, and a great many of the strikers had returned.

(By the Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Aug. 9.—The railroad strike situation appeared destined to mark time until next Friday although executives of the striking shopcrafts unions were in Washington today to consider President Harding's second proposal for a voluntary termination of the walk-out.

Shopcraft federation leaders here have stated that the reply to the present communication proposed immediate resumption of work. The question of referring the seniority rights issue to the railroad labor board for decision will be submitted to the general conference of railroad labor heads here Friday before it is sent to the white house. As the railroad executives also will meet that day in New York to draft their answer to the administration plan, active developments in the situation before the end of the week were improbable.

Rejection of the administration plan by the workers is generally accepted as certain.

Congress May Act.
Forecasts as to the course of the managers are not so definite, but it was apparently in anticipation of a second failure to bring the two sides to an agreement that facilities for full transportation facilities that Mr. Harding moved yesterday to bring the authority of congress to bear on what is admitted to be serious national crisis.

Mr. Harding yesterday indicated to house leaders that he was desirous that the house remain in session when reconvened Tuesday and abandon plans for a series of three days recesses to await action on the tariff and other matters by the senate.

With both senate and house in session it would be possible for the president to carry the rail and coal strike problems before the law making body next Tuesday if he so desired.

Commissioners May Draw up Ordinance Controlling Lake

City commissioners had up before them at their regular meeting Tuesday afternoon several routine business matters. One of the most important of these was the paving project on South Broadway and another was the disposition to be made of the city lake.

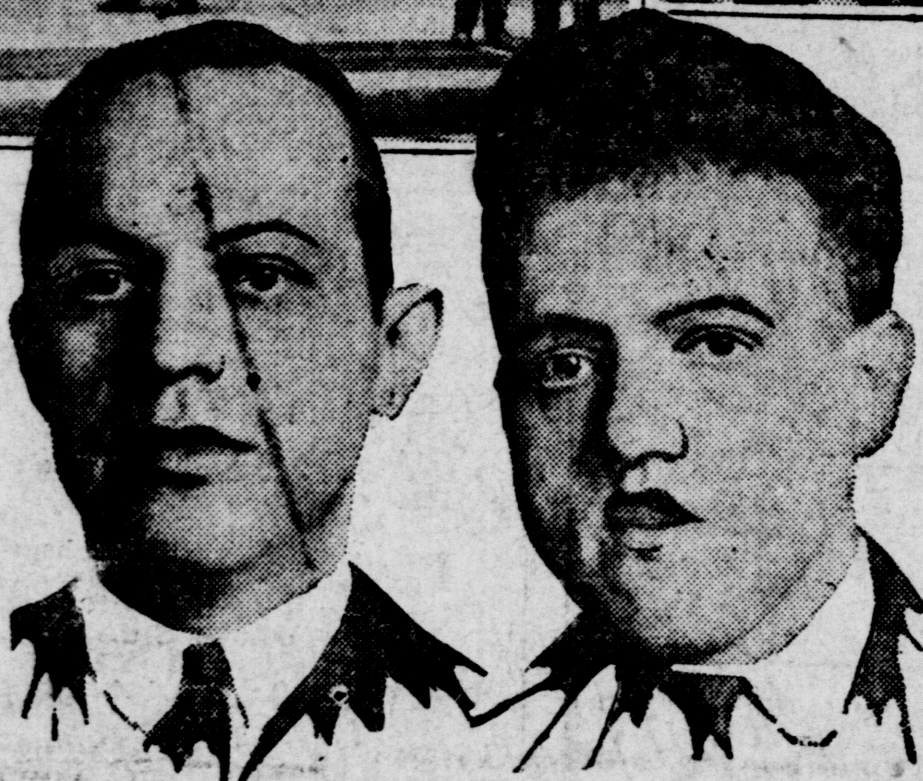

In regard to the paving matter a resolution was passed calling for bids. No protests were received in the allotted time. No definite decision has been made on the lake question, however. Swimming and fishing privileges are being considered. Commissioners did not want to act too hastily. It was pointed out that they may defer decision a few days longer.

New York Poison Mystery Baffling Police; Six Dead, Others Stricken

Mystery surrounding the death of six patrons of the Shelburn restaurant in New York and the illness of 100 others from arsenic poisoning continues to baffle the police. They exonerated Charles Abramson, former baker at the restaurant, after brief questioning. Louis Freedman, assistant baker, who is said to have mixed the dough for the pastries alleged to have contained arsenic, is expected to be a star witness.

PAVING STRETCH WILL OPEN SOON

Townsend Avenue Work to Be Completed Within
Month is Belief.

More than three-fourths of the paving work of South Townsend avenue has been completed, according to contractors, and it is believed that the job will be finished and ready for use within three or four weeks.

Paving work was started at the south end of the avenue and progressed towards the business district of the city. It is now nearing Fourteenth street. One block on West Seventeenth street has also been paved. All pavement from this street on south will be opened to traffic within a week, it was said.

Today saw the expiration of the time allowed for protest of the paving of the 200 block on South Broadway. City commissioners today began advertising for bids of the pavement, which will be concrete. Width will be the same as pavement in the business district. It will extend from the south line of Twelfth street to the south line of Thirteenth street.

Property owners on South Stockton avenue, leading from the pavement on Twelfth street to the school building, are reported to be considering the paving of six blocks on that avenue. It is understood that the matter of getting the required number of signatures to the petition will be taken up within a few weeks.

Talk of paving at least three blocks on West Main street, from the west side of the Santa Fe tracks to Glenwood Park is also being heard. One of two alleys in the business district, especially on the east end, are under consideration for paving in a few months.

Graveling work over the city is continuing, according to the street commissioner. Continued improvement of the condition of the streets by graveling is causing other property owners to contract for gravel.

LOCAL AGGIE GRADUATE TO ENTER BUSINESS HERE

Curtis Floyd returned last evening from Rogers, Ark., where he has been doing some special work on one of the large fruit farms. Curtis is one of the best qualified agriculturists in the state, in spite of the fact that he is just a young man, and he is planning to open a line of business here. He has made an enviable reputation as a live stock man, having been a member of the stock judging team from the A. M. College at Stillwater. He is also a graduate of that institution.

SOONERS WILL FORM CLUB HERE THURSDAY

All graduates and former students of the University of Oklahoma, who live in Ada, have been called to meet Thursday night at 7:30 in the law offices of Busby and Harrell, over the First National Bank for the purpose of organizing a University club.

The meeting will be brief, according to announcement, and a good attendance of Sooners is desired.

MOB IS FOILED IN ATTEMPT TO GET MURDERER

(By the Associated Press)
VINITA, Aug. 9.—Fears that another attempt will be made to night to lynch Elias Ridge, a young negro who is said to have confessed to the brutal murder of Mrs. George Adair, white, aged 30, yesterday afternoon at her home three miles southeast of Pensacola in the northeastern part of Mays county, was expressed by local officials. Hope was entertained that the plan to spirit Ridge out of this county at the first opportunity would be fulfilled this afternoon when an effort is to be made to start with the prisoner to Wagoner or Muskogee and then to the state penitentiary.

VINITA, Okla., Aug. 9.—A mob composed of more than 800 persons stormed the Craig county jail here last night in an unsuccessful attempt to obtain Elias Ridge, a young negro, who attacked late yesterday afternoon and beat to death Mrs. George Adair, 30, at her home three miles southwest of Pensacola. The negro went to the Adair home in the early afternoon and after procuring a drink of water set upon Mrs. Adair with a knife and inflicted several ugly wounds. The negro then obtained a plowshare and crowbar and beat her into insensibility.

The woman died a few minutes later. Feeling is tense here.

Pair Arrested For Failure of Clarita Bank; Third Sought

COALGATE, Aug. 9.—Two men are under arrest and a warrant is out for a third as a result of the closing of the First State bank at Clarita, this county, which is said by Sheriff Freeman to have been lotted to the extent of $46,000. G. L. West of Oklahoma City, cashier of the institution, is in jail here for criminal charges and H. L. Stagg of Los Angeles is under arrest in that city on a charge of complicity. Search is being conducted for a E. Smith of Los Angeles for whom a warrant has been issued in connection with the affair.

MINE CHIEFS TO END LONG STRIKE

Virtual Agreement Upon
Peace Terms Reached
at Cleveland.

(By the Associated Press)
CLEVELAND, Aug. 9.—Virtual decision was reached today by union leaders to conclude a settlement of the soft coal strike with the operators who have gathered here for the joint peace conference. The operators also were expectant of an agreement affecting practically all mines in Ohio, and scattered ones in Illinois, Indiana and Pennsylvania.

Final decision on a settlement rests with the union policy committee and its members have been informed that President John L. Lewis had assurances of operators outside the four states of their willingness to effect an agreement on the basis of the one negotiated at the conference here.

OPERATORS PREPARE FOR RESUMING WORK

MARION, Ill., Aug. 9.—Hopeful that today's conference of operators and miners at Cleveland would affect a settlement of the coal strike, a number of coal operators in southern Illinois today began setting their colliers in order to begin resumption of coal production as early as possible.

Preparations were being made by virtually all operators in southern Illinois and several hundred company men have begun work clearing the entries of the mines, inspecting the air courses and attempting to detect gas pockets, which oftentimes cause explosions.

COAL STRIKE MAY END WITHIN A FEW DAYS

HARRISBURG, Ill., Aug. 9.—Fires have been started in every coal mine in this section and mules are being lowered into the shafts today.

Preparations are being made by practically all operators in Williamson county to resume mining and it is the belief of both miners and operators in this region that the coal strike will be called off within 48 hours.

NOTICE MASONS.

ARKANSAS REMAINS

Gov. McRae Sweeps Back to
Office With Klan's Aid
Supporting Him.

(By the Associated Press)
The Republican conservatives retained their strongholds in Ohio, democrats of the Buckeye state have substantial pluralities to organization candidates, Governor T. C. McRae of Arkansas held a lead of more than two to one over Judge L. P. Toney, for renomination, and Judge W. W. Brandon was apparently the democratic nominee for governor of Alabama as a result of yesterday's primaries in the three states.

Republicans of Texas went into their state convention at Ft. Worth today to make a full party slate for the November election.

Incomplete returns from Ohio indicated that Carman Thompson, backed by the Harding forces and supported by the anti-saloon league, was nominated for governor by a wide margin while Congressman S. D. Fess held a substantial lead in the republican senatorial race. Senator Atlee Pomerene was apparently nominated in the democratic primary in Ohio while the returns indicated the nomination of A. V. Donaghey, democratic standard bearer in 1920, again for governor.

Governor McRae's renomination in Arkansas was won in a campaign in which his administration was an issue. The Ku Klux Klan in several local contests claimed victory and is said to have supported Governor McRae, although neither the governor nor Judge Toney took a definite stand on the Klan issue which became intense in the closing hours of the campaign.

In Alabama, Governor Kirby's activities against public service commissioners Cooper and Gaillard resulted in their apparent defeat. The Alabama Power Company and Henry Ford's Muscle Shoals offer were injected into the closing campaign.

FT. WORTH, Tex., Aug. 9.—Dr. E. P. Wilmet of Austin was agreed upon by the republican nominating committee today for the senate position.

KLAN IS CONDEMNED IN G. O. P. PLATFORM

FT. WORTH, Aug. 9.—Condemnation of the Ku Klux Klan was expressed in the platform unanimously adopted by the Texas republican convention at its closing session here this morning.

The convention for the first time in its history, it was said, voted to place a full ticket in the field to oppose the democratic nominees in the November election. E. P. Wilmet of Travis county was nominated for United States senator and W. H. Atwell of Dallas for governor.

BAPTIST SCOUT DETAIL LEAVES FOR MOUNTAINS

A large delegation of scouts, accompanied by their leaders, left today with Scout Executive Harry W. Miller for Price's Falls where they will spend six days at the Baptist encampment. Expenses of the transportation for the trip are being met by the Men's Bible class of the church.

Included in the program for the boys while at camp is an hour of instruction in scouting each day, two classes of religious instruction, and other camp duties. A hike will also be taken to Turner Falls, several miles over the mountains.

Rev. Harris G. Rice, R. A. Herndon, Mayo McKeown, Harry W. Miller, Harry Deering, Russell Boud and Tom Fullerton accompanied the boys to the camp. Those composing the scout delegation included:

Russell McAlester, Paul Hodges, Ralph Morrow, Jack Dixon, Junius Ridling, Carl Spangler, Don Wilmoth, Charles Harwell, Clinton Van Curen, Hugh Smith, Hoyt Driskell, Billie Kerr, Bill Nolan, Joe Cathey, Henry Cathey, Glen Linacott, R. A. Herndon, Jr., J. J. McClure, Harley Brown, Bob Naylor, Marion O'Neal, James Hunter, Wesley McClure, Jake Driver, Clarence Guest, Harley Keltz, Haskell Rogers and Restro Herndon.

AL JENNINGS' CAPTOR IS SHERIFF NOMINEE

MUSKOGEE, OKLA., Aug. 9.—"Uncle Bud" Ledbetter the man who captured the outlaw, Al Jennings, and broke up his gang, after forty years of continuous service in upholding the law in Oklahoma, has received the democratic nomination for sheriff of Muskogee county, which is normally democratic. Women voters gave him a large part of his support for the nomination.

"Uncle Bud" will be 71 years old in December. He asserts that if he gets the office there will be no compromise with law violators.

LOCAL NINE WILL SEEK $700 PURSE

Comanche Calls Ada's Team
to Meet Haldton in Triple Contest.

Comanche chamber of commerce believes that Ada has the best amateur baseball club in the state and to prove its confidence in the local team it has raised a purse of $700 to be divided 60-40 with the winning team. In a series of three games to be played in Comanche Thursday, Friday and Saturday of next week between Haldton and Ada.

In asking Ada to come for three games, the secretary of the chamber of commerce there said Comanche fans wanted to see the local play and as that place did not have a team good enough to warrant the club making so long a trip, he had secured Haldton club to play them. These games will be one of the deciding factors in settling the state amateur championship.

Manager Green of the local club said today he was signing the contract this week. He will leave here Wednesday with his team and expects to win at least two of the contests. Local fans are invited to go. Baseball men will go overland.

Lefty Williams, who has not pitched for an Ada team this year will assist Paul Waner, the mainstay of Green's pitching staff, in stopping the march of Haldton to state championship. The regular line-up including Morris, R. Waner, Rutledge, Young, Fain, West, Thunen, Kaiser, Norman and probably one or two others will go.

Play During Fair
A three day fair will be in progress in Comanche next week. State-wide interest in the games is being manifested.

Mr. Green stated today that he had received calls from all sections of the state from amateur teams, all making good financial offers. He said however, that as the season was drawing to a close and his men were all employed at home, he expected to take but one trip next week. Several good games are already scheduled for the home field.

Norman amateurs will be here Sunday for a game. The university town team is said to be a strong one. Purcell will be given a game at Purcell, it was intimated. Several other teams which have gone down in defeat before the locals are clamoring for return games.

Mr. Green stated today that he wished to extend his thanks to the Home Dining Room for a dinner given to the club. This was the first time any local business has entertained the ball team.

CEMENT WORKER DIES TODAY OF BRAIN TROUBLE

Bert Greer, an employee of the Oklahoma Portland Cement company, who has been suffering with brain trouble since last Friday, died at his home on West Fourteenth street shortly before 3 o'clock this afternoon. Attending physicians had given up hope for his recovery two days ago.

No funeral arrangements had been made this afternoon. He leaves a wife and four children. Greer was struck over the head by a policeman who was attempting to arrest him a year ago last December. He was badly injured at the time, but doctors refused to state whether the blow had any connection with the present trouble.

Men at the cement plant who have been working with him stated that he had been suffering with the trouble for several months, but it was only recently that it became serious.

JOLIET RAILWAY FORCE PROTESTS GUARDING YARDS

Engineers, Brakemen and
Conductors Strike in Indignation.

DISORDER FORBIDDEN

More Train Crews to Quit
Unless Conditions are Improved, Report.

(By the Associated Press)
JOLIET, ILL., Aug. 9.—Approximately 13,000 engineers, firemen, conductors and brakemen of the Elgin, Joliet and Eastern "big four" brotherhoods walked out here at midnight last night in protest to the stationing of troops around the "J" yards. There were no disorders connected with their striking.

EXECUTIVES TELL MEN TO SAVE OWN LIVES

(By the Associated Press)
CLEVELAND, Aug. 8.—Chief executives of the "big four" transportation brotherhoods have taken action regarding the endangering of the lives of brotherhood members through the alleged actions of armed guards in connection with the shopmen's strike and have telegraphed their workers to remain away from company property where their lives are endangered.

Warren S. Stone, president of the brotherhood of locomotive engineers, when told that 13,000 brotherhood members had quit at Joliet last night Associated Press correspondent that there would be 100 similar cases if working conditions at railroad yards were not changed.

"The men have got to the limit of endurance through abusive treatment from guards and conditions have reached the breaking point," Mr. Stone said. "There will be 100 more similar cases soon if conditions are not changed."

Doesn't Need Approval
Asked if the action of the Joliet members met with the approval of the brotherhood chiefs, Mr. Stone said:

"The action does not require any approval."
"Our men are not expected to work under such conditions as now prevail at many railroad terminals," Mr. Stone said. "I am telling them that wherever their lives are endangered by guards to go home and stay. They are justified in remaining away from railroad company property under existing conditions."

W. G. Lee, president of the brotherhood of railroad trainmen, and S. W. Robertson, president of the brotherhood of locomotive firemen and engineers, when told of the Joliet walkout of brotherhood members and of President Stone's stand on the situation, concurred in the position taken by the engineer's chief.

ENGINEERS WARNED AGAINST DANGERS

(By the Associated Press)
CHICAGO, Aug. 9.—Members of the big four brotherhoods and Switchmen's Union of North America, can help the striking shopmen most by remaining at work preserving the peace and not playing into the hands of the railroad in such a manner as to cause government intervention in the strike, according to a statement by the five grand chiefs and printed in a current number of the brotherhood of locomotive engineer's journal.

Engineers are advised by statements that they are not expected to take engines which will endanger their lives because of bad condition, but are told to "use common sense in this important matter" and not "tie up power on account of technical violations of the law that you know is of little or no importance."

SEVEN GUARD OUTFITS ENTRAIN FOR JOLIET

CHICAGO, Aug. 9.—Seven companies of Illinois national guardsmen entrained this morning for Joliet to go on strike duty. Officers here did not know whether the men already on duty there were to be relieved or whether the additional troops were sent because of the walkout of the big four brotherhood members last night. The brotherhood men refused to work under troop protection.

Dignity and Smartness Combined Attractively

WOMAN'S INSTITUTE Fashion Service

By MARY BROOKS PICKEN

WHEN early fall comes nearer and nearer, like the opera star that we peer at through the glasses, we realize that the summer frocks will soon need to be replaced by a smart service dress of heavier weight and greater durability. Then comes the question: Shall it be of silk or cloth? The dress shown here is appropriate for either of these materials, its simplicity of line harmonizing delightfully with either silk or soft cloth, such as serge or wool crepe.

The waist line is interesting because it takes attention away from the skirt length, which one hesitates to have modishly long at first. The strap trimming, the kimono sleeve, and the pin tucks are quickened with newness. The hat, a velvet tricotine with ostrich pompon, adds the additional definite note that one's fall costume requires.

CROPS BADLY IN NEED OF SHOWER TO BREAK HEAT

(By the Associated Press)
OKLAHOMA CITY, Aug. 9.—All crops in Oklahoma deteriorated as a result of the heat and scant moisture of the past week, especially in the southwest portions where the drought is severe and damage has been great, says the weekly weather and crop report issued here today by the United States Weather Bureau. Intense heat and dry weather continued until near the close of the week when the temperature moderated and light to heavy scattered showers fell in the north and east portions, the report continues.

Cotton made fair to good progress in most sections, the summary says, but deteriorated in some localities and while the crop is now poor in some sections, it averages fairly good as a whole. The boll weevil continued more or less active.

Corn is in fair to very good condition in the east portion of the state but needing rain, according to the report. Early planted corn is almost matured with some damage by the dry weather while the late planted maize has been damaged by the heat and drought in the southwest portions and much of it has been burned beyond recovery. Rain is needed by melons and fruit which have been more or less damaged. Pastures are generally poor.

School Time Welcomed By Well-Dressed Miss.

By MARY BROOKS PICKEN

WHEN school time comes, the thrill of the first weeks is vivified by the smart frocks that have been made ready. But after the newness has worn off and the studies have definitely fastened their interest, then service frocks are sought.

In this dress, both of these interests will be realized. The smartness makes it a delight to wear, and then its simplicity and becomingness make it a dress favored alike by mother and daughter.

Wool jersey of medium-light weight makes both the dress and the cape. The weight of the box-plaited skirt does not interfere in any way with the smart waist line effect of the blouse, which is acquired by a two and one-half inch belt made of two thicknesses of material, for the skirt is fastened to a waist lining.

The neck line and sleeves are slashed at the center, the slashes and edges all being neatly bound with braid.

The cape is a straight piece of one width of jersey bound on three sides and gathered into a shaped collar made of two thicknesses and bound with braid.

The large felt hat is a type especially suitable for school wear.

MEMORIAL SITE DEPENDING NOW ON COURT ORDER

City commissioners today were anxiously looking forward to the hearing tomorrow before County Judge Tal Crawford for the sale of the lots on South Townsend avenue which have been selected for the site of the memorial convention hall. The hearing will come up in probate court.

Sale of the property to the city is one of the most important matters to be decided before the commissioners will be able to proceed with letting contracts and getting construction work started.

In case the sale is prohibited by the court, it will then be necessary to go through the long process of law condemning another desirable space for the site of the hall, it was pointed out. It was the general opinion, however, that the sale would be authorized by the court.

Plans for the building, which were sent to Oklahoma City for revision, have not yet been returned. It was expected that everything will be ready for the letting of a contract within a few weeks, however.

Roff Guard Outfit Holds Banquet With 150 Guests Present

ROFF, Okla., Aug. 9.—(Special)—One of the most elaborate events given by headquarters company, O. N. G., 160th Field Artillery, stationed here, was the banquet held by the members of the organization of 160th Field Artillery officers and their friends at the armory last night.

Several members of the Ada batteries were also present. Speeches by Tom D. McKown of Ada, A. L. Bullock and Capt. W. O. Pratt of Roff featured the program. More than 150 persons were present. Lieuts. Roy Adair and Kenneth Frank and their wives of Ada were among the out of town guests. Music for the affair was furnished by the 160th Field Artillery Band.

Made a Hit With Him

"My wife has taken your medicine and has been wonderfully benefited, for over four years she has had trouble with bloating and could scarcely eat any food because of this condition. Doctor's medicines did not help her and an operation was advised. Her brother, who is a druggist, sent her a bottle of Mayr's Wonderful Remedy and it helped her at once. I cannot praise your medicine enough." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded. Gwin & Mays and druggists everywhere.

TEAMS GO SEVEN INNINGS TO TIE

"Blood Battle" for Title in City League Ends in Draw Tuesday.

It was a bitter game and not until darkness made playing impossible did either side consent to a halt.

American Legion and Athletic Association teams, playing their long advertised "blood game" on the college field Tuesday afternoon, battled furiously for seven innings, the score standing tied when called on account of darkness. Each team had scored thrice.

McMillan, hurling for the clerks, did well until the fourth. He was stung by his hits, allowing only one single up to the fourth, but the entire line-up faced him in this frame, getting four hits and three runs. When the third man retired, the bases were loaded. He almost "blew up" in the third, also, when with the bases loaded, he had to pitch his best to retire the legions.

R. Waner pitched the last four innings for the clerks, allowing one small hit. His triple in the second, following Harrison's double, accounted for the first marker. Clerks tied score in the fifth when with two hits, a fielder's choice and a fumble allowed G. Byrd and Beavers to score. McMillan knocked in the two runs with his hot single to center.

Rutledge did the pitching act for the Legion. He allowed six hits in the seven frame contest, two of which were for extra bases. Eight men were fooled by Rutledge. He pitched himself out of tight places three times by strike outs.

Hitting by both teams was infrequent. Errors were few and at no time costly. Luck was with the clerks, however, for walks and errors filled the bases several times, only to avail the Legion men no runs.

The city league schedule calls for another game between the two teams. It will be necessary now, in order to decide the league champions, to play off the tie. These two games promise to be the best of the entire league season.

S. S. S. Fills Out Hollow Cheeks, Thin Limbs!

Men and women—whether you will ever build yourself up to your normal, well-right weight depends on the number of blood-cells in your blood. That's all there is to it. It's a scientific fact. If your blood-cell factory isn't working right, you will be run-down, thin, your blood will be in disorder, and perhaps your face will be broken out with pimples, blackheads and eruptions. S. S. S. keeps your blood-cell factory working full time. It helps build new blood-cells. That's why S. S. S. builds up thin, run-down people, it puts firm flesh on your bones, it sounds out your face, arms, neck, limbs, the whole body. It puts the "pink" in your cheeks. It takes the hollowiness from the eyes, and it tones Father Time by smoothing out wrinkles in men and women by "plumping" them up. S. S. S. is a remarkable blood-purifier. While you are getting plump, your skin eruptions, pimples, blackheads, acne, rheumatism, rash, blotches, are being removed. The medicinal ingredients of S. S. S. are guaranteed purely vegetable. S. S. S. is sold at all drug stores, in two sizes. Try a News Want Ad for results.

SERVICE CLAIMS MANUAL COMPILED BY ADJUTANT

Leon H. Brown, assistant department adjutant, has completed a four months task of compiling a Service Claims Manual for use of the Service Division of Department Headquarters. The manual was published by the legion and sent to all posts. It outlined in detail the method of preparing and filing claims for disabled men. The Veterans Bureau has stated that if its instructions are followed much time will be saved in adjudicating claims by the Bureau. The manual is being used by service officers retained by all posts to aid ex-service men, with the aid of Bernard A. Kellner of Pawnee, who is in charge of the Service Division at state headquarters. Many men who did not know posts of the Legion rendered this service to all ex-service men are enrolling as members of the post that helps them and their families in time of need.

LOW FARE IS SECURED FOR STATE CONVENTION

The American Legion has secured a one and one-half fare for the round trip to the state convention at Bartlesville September 11-12. Persons taking advantage of the rate must be members of the Legion or Auxiliary or dependent members of their families, and must obtain reduced fare certificates from their local Legion post or auxiliary unit. Department headquarters of the Legion is expecting a supply of the certificates in a few days and will distribute them.

Carnival Is Success.
Maggart Post No. 26, Pawnee, last week put over in grand style a home talent carnival, making a big financial success, according to Joe Furgeson, then publicity man. A Japan sword fighters exhibition was a big feature, as was a boxing match and a wrestling match between two Pawnee Indians. A Ford car was given away to Alfred Severs who drew the lucky number.

THE YOUNG LADY ACROSS THE WAY

The young lady across the way says it's the little things that shape our destinies and the goose cooking destroyed Rome.

Cupie racks, confetti vendors, a dancing floor and every carnival attraction helped the affair. The Legion donated one-half the funds for park improvements in the city. The balance will be used to help build the Legion home.

Choice of Bunks.

Oklahomans will have choice of three kinds of bunks at New Orleans during the Legion Convention next October. They may stay at hotels at the rate of $1.50 a day without bath or $2.50 a day with bath, three men to a room; they may charter a Pullman car from their home town, and sleep in it at New Orleans and return home in it at a rate of about $2.00 per day including Pullman fare; or they may carry their own bed linen with them and sleep in a Tent City to be erected at rates of probably 25c or 50c a day.

Paris Tightens Purse.

The reunion of Civil War, Spanish-American, and World War veterans at Bridgeport will be held August 16, 17, 18, 19 instead of September 28 as at first planned. August 17 will be American Legion Day. For particulars write J. W. McPherson, secretary at Bridgeport.

Approximately 10,000 acres of land in New Mexico may be taken over by veterans of the world war, according to an announcement by the land office of the United States Department of Interior. The land which was formerly withdrawn under the reclamation act for reservoir sites has been restored and will be subject to entry at the land office at Las Cruces, N. M. The American Legion advises prospective homesteaders to write immediately to the office at Las Cruces for information.

Legion Men Run Traffic.

During a recent event at Mangum bringing one of the largest crowds in its history, the sheriff and city managers secured the services of the Legion post to direct traffic. The post furnished more than 100 men who were complimented on the way they handled the crowd.

Want Post in Korea.

An application has just been received for a charter for an American Legion post at Kwanju, Korea, by the Legion's national organization department. There are fifteen persons eligible for membership in Korea and the application bears the names of those fifteen persons. The post is being organized by M. L. Swineheart, treasurer of the Southern Presbyterian Mission in that country.

Provide Trash Cans.

Ponca Post No. 14 provided Ponca City with waste paper cans on all street corners. The name and number of the post is displayed prominently where it can be read and considered by visiting Legionnaires as an invitation to attend meetings of the post.

Open Tubercular Camp.

The New York American Legion recently opened its Adirondack camp for tubercular world war veterans. The service men paid $85,000 for the site and have expended many more thousands on equipment in an effort to make inroads into the rapidly increasing ranks of veterans who are suffering with the disease.

HIS ART

By MILDRED WHITE

Copyright, 1922, Western Newspaper Union.

"If you would but sing for me alone, Lisette," begged Gene, his dark eyes pleading.

The girl bent forward to touch placatingly the young man's head.

"Silly," she laughed, "when I have come all the way from America in order to perfect my voice. Do I ask you to give up your talent for me?"

"But to compose music is different," explained Gene.

Lisette considered him, her pretty head aside.

"What a joke that would be Gene," she said, "I to cross the ocean and leave my people, in the pursuit of art, then meeting a fellow student, and give up all for—love."

"A joke?" cried the young man, "Lisette, it is the serious thing in our lives. And see, you shall never be famous until you have the right song for your voice. I, a composer, know. They waste your talent, these directors, in little joyous nothings—your voice Lisette, it is your heart. So your heart must feel as you sing." Gene caught the girl's hand.

"I will write for you a song," he said, "a song of our love for each other; and you shall sing it for your public, if that is your desire, and they shall hear the love in your voice."

Lisette's eyes softened as they rested on the glowing, handsome face.

"Will you, Gene?" she asked. "Oh, I know that I could sing your song, for always I should see your face as I sing. And I should feel in the song the expression of your love for me."

So Gene wrote for Elizabeth Wendell her famous song—the song and the voice to which a country listened in adulation.

The singer's name was given on the program as Lisette Wendell. And little Lizzie Wendell of Holcomb village seemed all unspoiled by her great success. Gene, triumphant, rapturous, became absorbed in a second song, which must outclass his first.

It was at this time that Lisette met the American. He was on business for his publishing house. Jack Landon was good looking. The idolized young singer enjoyed the contrast. Unknown to herself, Gene's sentimentality had grown wearisome. And it happened that Jack, falling suddenly in love, but as sure of himself as ever, asked Elizabeth Wendell to marry him, knowing nothing of Gene, the musician. Gene had sought no profit from his song; it had been dedicated to Lisette and as such, was in his opinion, her property, made successful through her gift.

Jack Landon never listened to the tender song, rendered so sympathetically, that he did not marvel how the lovely singer had given herself to him.

Gene, in his fever of inspiration, scarcely realized the lapse of time, or that on his two or three visits to Lisette she had appeared preoccupied and distant. So when she came one day to his studio, he greeted her smilingly.

"It is coming beautifully, beloved," he said, speaking of the composition which was his one thought.

"Gene," she began haltingly, "it was all a mistake, our fancied love. I must not see you any more."

Vaguely understanding, Gene waited before her. At length he spoke. His voice was so strangely calm.

"A mistake? Very well then. You need see me no more, Lisette. Is there there another?"

Dumbly the girl nodded.

"I feel," trembled Lisette, "almost as though I had stolen your song—and left you nothing."

His dark eyes alight, he whirled up on her.

"Left me nothing? What more could you give me than the assurance of my skill?"

Jack Landon was displeased, Lisette could see, when she confessed to him concerning Gene.

"Too bad," he exclaimed, frowning; then drew her arm through his.

"After all, you could not prevent the emotional musician from falling in love with you, I suppose. And it would be natural in your loneliness to fancy yourself in love with him. Time may show us a way to compensate in a measure."

Lisette again went to the studio.

The composer was at his piano—only Gene could touch the keys with magic fingers. As she hesitated, listening, came a voice singing. A contralto voice this, unlike her own, but sweet—oh, very sweet. Noiselessly, that she might not disturb, Lisette stepped inside the room. The singer, a small worshipful person, stood admiringly at Gene's side. At sight of the famous Lisette Wendell, the girl, abashed, slipped away. Still under the influence of his dream, the composer came toward her.

"I was anxious about you, Gene," faltered Lisette. "I had to come to see if you might have cared—too much."

Gene smiled. "I do care very much, Lisette—for my song. But a song of love, is not I find, the reality. And there is no longing which my music cannot satisfy. So that is well discovered—and as it should be—an artist's love, his art."

Gene was at the piano as she left the room. Jack waited at the outer door. "Everything all right?" he questioned, cheerfully.

"Everything all right," Lisette replied.

WORKERS WILL BALK

Shopcrafts Are Certain to Reject Plan Held Out
by Harding.

(By the Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Aug. 9.—Leaders of the striking railroad shopcrafts in city occupied themselves today with preparing for the general meeting of the railroad union officials which they expect to hold Friday and with the issuance of a statement declaring railroad equipment to be in a dangerously deteriorated condition.

B. M. Jewell, chairman of the striking group, received notice from Warren S. Stone, chief of the engineers' brotherhood, that all of the other brotherhood heads would accept the invitation to the conference. T. H. Davis, chairman of the general shopcrafts committee of the Pennsylvania System, headed a delegation of representative men at work which called at the White House and asked President Harding not to countenance any strike settlement which would injure the seniority status of the men who remained in the railroad service in spite of the strike. About 65 per cent of the Pennsylvania shop employees, Mr. Davis asserted, stayed on the job, and a great many of the strikers had returned.

(By the Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Aug. 9.—The railroad strike situation appeared destined to mark time until next Friday although executives of the striking shopcrafts unions were in Washington today to consider President Harding's second proposal for a voluntary termination of the walkout.

Shopcraft federation leaders here have stated that the reply to the present communication proposed immediate resumption of work. The question of referring the seniority rights issue to the railroad labor board for decision will be submitted to the general conference of railroad labor heads here Friday before it is sent to the white house. As the railroad executives also will meet that day in New York to draft their answer to the administration plan, active developments in the situation before the end of the week were improbable.

Rejection of the administration plan by the workers is generally accepted as certain.

Congress May Act.
Forecasts as to the course of the managers are not so definite, but it was apparently in anticipation of a second failure to bring the two sides to an agreement that would restore full transportation facilities that Mr. Harding moved yesterday to bring the authority of congress to bear on what is admitted to be serious national crisis.

Mr. Harding yesterday indicated to house leaders that he was desirous that the house remain in session when reconvened Tuesday and abandon plans for a series of three days recesses to await action on the tariff and other matters by the senate.

With both senate and house in session it would be possible for the president to carry the rail and coal strike problems before the law making body next Tuesday if he so desired.

Commissioners May Draw up Ordinance Controlling Lake

City commissioners had up before them at their regular meeting Tuesday afternoon several routine business matters. One of the most important of these was the paving project on South Broadway and another was the disposition to be made of the city lake.

In regard to the paving matter a resolution was passed calling for bids. No protests were received in the allotted time. No definite decision has been made on the lake question, however. Swimming and fishing privileges are being considered. Commissioners did not want to set too hastily, it was pointed out and may defer decision a few days longer.

Mystery surrounding the death of six patrons of the Shelburn restaurant in New York and the illness of 100 others from arsenic poisoning continues to baffle the police. They exonerated Charles Abramson, former baker at the restaurant, after brief questioning. Louis Freedman, assistant baker, who is said to have mixed the dough for the pastries alleged to have contained the arsenic, is expected to be a star witness.

PAVING STRETCH WILL OPEN SOON

Townsend Avenue Work to Be Completed Within
Month is Belief.

More than three-fourths of the paving work of South Townsend avenue has been completed, according to contractors, and it is believed that the job will be finished and ready for use within three or four weeks.

Paving work was started at the south end of the avenue and progressed towards the business district of the city. It is now nearing Fourteenth street. One block on West Seventeenth street has also been paved. All pavement from this street on south will be opened to traffic within a week, it was said.

Today saw the expiration of the time allowed for protest of the paving of the 200 block on South Broadway. City commissioners today began advertising for bids of the pavement, which will be concrete. Width will be the same as pavement in the business district. It will extend from the south line of Twelfth street to the south line of Thirteenth street.

Property owners on South Stockton avenue, leading from the pavement on Twelfth street to the high school building, are reported to be considering the paving of six blocks on that avenue. It is understood that the matter of getting the required number of signatures to the petition will be taken up within a few weeks.

Talk of paving at least three blocks on West Main street, from the west side of the Santa Fe tracks to Glenwood Park is also being heard. One of two alleys in the business district, especially on the east end, are under consideration for paving in a few months.

Graveling work over the city is continuing, according to the street commissioner. Continued improvement of the condition of the streets by graveling is causing other property owners to contract for gravel.

LOCAL AGGIE GRADUATE TO ENTER BUSINESS HERE

The meeting will be brief, according to announcement, and a good attendance of Sooners is desired.

MOB IS FOILED IN ATTEMPT TO GET MURDERER

(By the Associated Press)
VINITA, Aug. 9.—Fears that another attempt will be made to-night to lynch Elias Ridge, a young negro who is said to have confessed to the brutal murder of Mrs. George Adair, white, aged 39, yesterday afternoon at her home three miles southeast of Pensacola in the northeastern part of Mays county, was expressed by local officials. Hope was entertained that the plan to spirit Ridge out of this county at the first opportunity would be fulfilled this afternoon when an effort is to be made to start with the prisoner to Wagoner or Muskogee, and then to the state penitentiary.

VINITA, Okla., Aug. 9.—A mob composed of more than 800 persons stormed the Craig county jail here last night in an unsuccessful attempt to obtain Elias Ridge, a young negro, who attacked late yesterday afternoon and beat to death Mrs. George Adair, 39, at her home three miles southwest of Pensacola.

The negro went to the Adair home in the early afternoon and after procuring a drink of water set upon Mrs. Adair with a knife and inflicted several ugly wounds. The negro then obtained a plowshare and crowbar and beat her into insensibility.

The woman died a few minutes later.

Pair Arrested For Failure of Clarita Bank; Third Sought

COALGATE, Aug. 9.—Two men are under arrest and a warrant is out for a third as a result of the closing of the First State bank at Clarita, this county, which is said by Sheriff Freeman to have been looted to the extent of $46,000. G. L. West of Oklahoma City, cashier of the institution, is in jail here for criminal charges and H. L. Stagg of Los Angeles is under arrest in that city on a charge of complicity. Search is being conducted for A. E. Smith of Los Angeles for whom a warrant has been issued in connection with the affair.

MINE CHIEFS TO END LONG STRIKE

Virtual Agreement Upon
Peace Terms Reached
at Cleveland.

(By the Associated Press)
CLEVELAND, Aug. 9.—Virtual decision was reached today by union leaders to conclude a settlement of the soft coal strike with the operators who have gathered here for the joint peace conference. The operators also were expectant of an agreement affecting practically all mines in Ohio, and scattered ones in Illinois, Indiana and Pennsylvania.

Final decision on a settlement rests with the union policy committee and its members have been informed that President John L. Lewis had assurances of operators outside the four states of their willingness to effect an agreement on the basis of the one negotiated at the conference here.

OPERATORS PREPARE FOR RESUMING WORK

MARION, Ill., Aug. 9.—Hopful that today's conference of operators and miners at Cleveland would affect a settlement of the coal strike, a number of coal operators in southern Illinois today began setting their colliers in order to begin resumption of coal production as early as possible.

Preparations were being made by virtually all operators in southern Illinois and several hundred company men have begun work clearing the entries of the mines, inspecting the air courses and attempting to detect gas pockets, which oftentimes cause explosions.

COAL STRIKE MAY END WITHIN A FEW DAYS

HARRISBURG, Ill., Aug. 9.—Fires have been started in every coal mine in this section and mules are being lowered into the shafts today.

Preparations are being made by practically all operators in Williamson county to resume mining and it is the belief of both miners and operators in this region that the coal strike will be called off within 48 hours.

ARKANSAS REMAINS

Gov. McRae Sweeps Back to
Office With Klan's Aid
Supporting Him.

(By the Associated Press)
The Republican conservatives retained their strongholds in Ohio, Democrats of the Buckeye state have substantial pluralities to organization candidates. Governor T. C. McRae of Arkansas held a lead of more than two to one over Judge L. P. Toney, for renomination, and Judge W. W. Brandon was apparently the democratic nominee for governor of Alabama as a result of yesterday's primaries in the three states.

Republicans of Texas went into their state convention at Ft. Worth today to make a full party slate for the November election.

Incomplete returns from Ohio indicated that Carman Thompson, backed by the Harding forces and supported by the anti-saloon league, was nominated for governor by a wide margin while Congressman A. D. Fess held a substantial lead in the republican senatorial race.

Senator Alice Ponterence was apparently nominated in the democratic primary in Ohio while the returns indicated the nomination of A. V. Donaghey, democratic standard bearer in 1920, again for governor.

Governor McRae's renomination in Arkansas was won in a campaign in which his administration was an issue. The Ku Klux Klan in several local contests claimed victory and is said to have supported Governor McRae, although neither the governor nor Judge Toney took a definite stand on the Klan issue which became intense in the closing hours of the campaign.

In Alabama, Governor Kirby's activities against public service commissioners, Cooper and Guillard resulted in their apparent defeat. The Alabama Power Company and Henry Ford's Muscle Shoals offer were injected into the closing campaign.

FT. WORTH, Tex., Aug. 9.—Dr. E. P. Wilmont of Austin was agreed upon by the republican nominating committee today for the senate position.

BAPTIST SCOUT DETAIL LEAVES FOR MOUNTAINS

A large delegation of scouts, accompanied by their leaders, left today with Scout Executive Harry W. Miller for Price's Falls where they will spend six days at the Baptist encampment. Expenses of the transportation for the trip are being met by the Men's Bible class of the church.

Included in the program for the boys while at camp is an hour of instruction in scouting each day, two classes of religious instruction, and other camp duties. A hike will also be taken to Turner Falls, several miles over the mountains.

Rev. Harris C. Rice, R. A. Herndon, Mayo McKeown, Harry W. Miller, Harry Deering, Russell Boud and Tom Fullerton accompanied the boys to the camp. Those composing the scout delegation included: Russell McAlester, Paul Hodges, Ralph Morrow, Jack Dixon, Junius Riddling, Carl Spangler, Don Wilmoth, Charles Harwell, Clinton Van Curen, Hugh Smith, Hoyt Driskell, Billie Kerr, Bill Nolan, Joe Cathey, Henry Cathey, Glen Lin Scott, R. A. Herndon, Jr., J. J. McClure, Harley Brown, Bob Naylor, Marion O'Neal, James Hunter, Wesley McClure, Jake Driver, Clarence Guest, Harley Keith, Haskell Rogers and Renfro Herndon.

AL JENNINGS' CAPTOR IS SHERIFF NOMINEE

MUSKOGEE, OKLA., Aug. 9.—"Uncle Bud" Legbetter the man who captured the outlaw, Al Jennings, and broke up his gang, after forty years of continuous service in upholding the law in Oklahoma, has received the democratic nomination for sheriff of Muskogee county, which is normally democratic. Women voters gave him a large part of his support for the nomination.

"Uncle Bud" will be 71 years old in December. He asserts that if he gets the office there will be no compromise with law violators.

LOCAL NINE WILL SEEK $700 PURSE

Comanche Calls Ada's Team
to Meet Healdton in Triple Contest.

Comanche chamber of commerce believes that Ada has the best amateur baseball club in the state and to prove its confidence in the local team it has raised a purse of $700 to be divided 60-40 with the winning team in a series of three games to be played in Comanche Thursday, Friday and Saturday of next week between Healdton and Ada.

In asking Ada to come for three games, the secretary of the chamber of commerce there said: Comanche fans wanted to see the local play and as that place did not have a team good enough to warrant the club making so long a trip, he had secured Healdton club to play them. These games will be one of the deciding factors in settling the state amateur championship.

Manager Green of the local club said today he was signing the contract this week. He will leave here Wednesday with his team and expects to win at least two of the contests. Local fans are invited to go. Baseball men will go overland.

Lefty Williams, who has not pitched for an Ada team this year will assist Paul Waner, the mainstay of Green's pitching staff, in stopping the march of Healdton to state championship. The regular line-up including Morris, R. Waner, Rutledge, Young, Fain, West, Thussen, Kaiser, Norman and probably one or two others will go.

A three day fair will be in progress in Comanche next week. State-wide interest in the games is being manifested.

Mr. Green stated today that he had received calls from all sections of the state from amateur teams, all making good financial offers. He said however, that as the season was drawing to a close and his men were all employed at home, he expected to take but one trip next week. Several good games are already scheduled for the home field.

Norman amateurs will be here Sunday for a game. The university town team is said to be a strong one. Purcell will be given a game at Purcell, it was intimated. Several other teams which have gone down in defeat before the locals are clamoring for return games.

Mr. Green stated today that he wished to extend his thanks to the Home Dining Room for a dinner given to the club. This was the first time any local business has entertained the ball team.

CEMENT WORKER DIES TODAY OF BRAIN TROUBLE

Bert Greer, an employee of the Oklahoma Portland Cement company, who has been suffering with brain trouble since last Friday, died at his home on West Fourteenth street shortly before 3 o'clock this afternoon. Attending physicians had given up hope for his recovery two days ago.

No funeral arrangements had been made this afternoon. He leaves a wife and four children. Greer was struck over the head by a policeman who was attempting to arrest him a year ago last December. He was badly injured at the time, but doctors refuse to state whether the blow had any connection with the present trouble.

Men at the cement plant who have been working with him stated that he had been suffering with the trouble for several months, but it was only recently that it became serious.

JOLIET RAILWAY FORCE PROTESTS GUARDING YARDS

Engineers, Brakemen and
Conductors Strike in Indignation.

DISORDER FORBIDDEN

More Train Crews to Quit
Unless Conditions are
Improved, Report.

(By the Associated Press)
JOLIET, ILL., Aug. 9.—Approximately 13,000 engineers, firemen, conductors and brakemen of the Elgin, Joliet and Eastern "big four" brotherhoods walked out here at midnight last night in protest to the stationing of troops around the yards. There were no disorders connected with their striking.

EXECUTIVES TELL MEN TO SAVE OWN LIVES

(By the Associated Press)
CLEVELAND, Aug. 8.—Chief executives of the "big four" transportation brotherhoods have taken action regarding the endangering of the lives of brotherhood members through the alleged actions of armed guards in connection with the shopmen's strike and have telegraphed their workers to remain away from company property where their lives are endangered.

Warren S. Stone, president of the brotherhood of locomotive engineers, when told that 13,000 brotherhood members had quit at Joliet last night Associated Press correspondent said that there would be 100 similar cases if working conditions at railroad yards were not changed.

"The union has got to the limit of endurance through abusive treatment from guards and conditions have reached the breaking point," Mr. Stone said. "There will be 100 more similar cases soon if conditions are not changed."

Doesn't Need Approval
Asked if the action of the Joliet members met with the approval of the brotherhood chiefs, Mr. Stone said:

"The action does not require any approval."
"Our men are not expected to work under such conditions as now prevail at many railroad terminals," Mr. Stone said. "I am telling them that wherever their lives are endangered by guards to go home and stay. They are justified in remaining away from railroad company property under existing conditions."

W. G. Lee, president of the brotherhood of railroad trainmen, and S. W. Robertson, president of the brotherhood of locomotive firemen and engineers, when told of the Joliet walkout of brotherhood members and of President Stone's stand on the situation, concurred in the position taken by the engineer's chief.

ENGINEERS WARNED AGAINST DANGERS

(By the Associated Press)
CHICAGO, Aug. 9.—Members of the big four brotherhoods and Switchmen's Union of North America, can help the striking shopmen most by remaining at work preserving the peace and not playing into the hands of the railroad in such a manner as to cause government intervention in the strike, according to a statement by the five grand chiefs and printed in a current number of the brotherhood of locomotive engineer's journal.

Engineers are advised by statements that they are not expected to take engines which will endanger their lives because of bad condition, but are told to "use common sense in this important matter" and not "be up on account of technical violations of the law that you know is of little or no importance."

SEVEN GUARD OUTFITS ENTRAIN FOR JOLIET

CHICAGO, Aug. 9.—Seven companies of Illinois national guardsmen entrained this morning for Joliet to go on strike duty. Officers here did not know whether the men already on duty there were to be relieved or whether the additional troops were sent because of the walkout of the big four brotherhood members last night. The brotherhood men refused to work under troop protection.

BARTLESVILLE—Bartlesville took its first step Monday afternoon in the big roads movement which is sweeping the state when good road enthusiasts at a meeting at the city hall voted to join the North-eastern Oklahoma chamber of commerce.

BIBLE THOUGHT OF TODAY
GOD'S WONDERFUL LOVE:—For God so loved the world, that he gave his only begotten Son, that whosoever believeth in him should not perish, but have everlasting life.—John 3:16.

SCIENTISTS SEEKING FACTS

Archaeologists are excavating the cities of the Philistines named in the Bible. Outside of the mention made of this race of people by writers of the Bible nothing is known of their history. It is known that the nation was a very old one and it was likewise a very troublesome one until thoroughly conquered by David. These explorations are expected to bring some interesting facts to light and perhaps add to our knowledge of the early Hebrews and their centuries of warfare with this nation.

Beginning with the finding of the Rosetta stone by Napoleon's expedition to Egypt and the solution of the ancient Egyptian alphabet through its aid and later the working out of the inscriptions in Assyria and Persia great progress has been made in the knowledge of ancient history. Before that time the historical books of the Old Testament were about the only sources of information the world had of those early times. Now, however, we know a great deal from reading the writings of that period and in course of time we shall probably be as familiar with the history of the races of that day as we are with those of more recent times.

In recent years the number of boys learning skilled trades has fallen to an alarming degree. The average boy is impatient to serve an apprenticeship of the length of time required to give him that knowledge of the trade he really must have to make a success of it. He tries to take a short cut, taking up something that pays better for the time being, losing sight of the future and the rewards patience and close application will bring to him. The result is that even now a shortage is being felt. In a few more years this will become acute unless there is a change in the attitude of the coming generation. Too many of the present generation are hunting for soft snaps and jobs that will enable them to wear their Sunday clothes every day in the week. It is all very well while they are young, but how about it when they begin to grow old and a younger bunch comes along to crowd the old fellows out of the way?

According to our way of thinking it would be better for the Democratic party two years hence if the Republicans retain control of the next congress. In that event the entire responsibility for legislation for the next two years will be on their shoulders and there will be no chance for an alibi. Of course we would like to see the majority in both houses cut down to small proportions, but we shall not worry about it if the Republicans retain full power until the presidential election two years hence when the Democrats will be ready to take charge of affairs again.

It is seldom that town boosters are given the appreciation their work merits. No matter how much time they give the public or how much the community profits from their work many people take it as a matter of course and not only refuse to do anything themselves but always have a lot of stinging criticism. This is indeed discouraging to these men of local patriotism but it is to their credit that in every community we find men who are willing to face all obstacles in order that the public may profit.

It is not often that a governor has a chance to appoint three United States senators in course of two years, but that is the situation in Pennsylvania. Senators Knox and Penrose died in office and Governor Sproul appointed their successors. Now one of the appointees is dead and he has another appointment to make. The new man will serve until the November election. The irony of the situation lies in the fact that it is said the governor would like to have a senatorship himself.

According to several reports we have seen there are more coal miners and more mines than are needed to supply the demand for coal. As a consequence the miners are idle much of the time and the mines cannot run regularly. The public is called on to pay for this lost time by having it tacked onto the price of coal. No one has offered a solution to the problem, however.

Every little while some one finds fault with our national anthem and insists that it should either be revised or else another composed. To date no one has been found equal to the job and the Star Spangled Banner still waves. Either the world does not have a musician of sufficient talent to improve on Francis Key's work or else the country is too well satisfied with it to be carried away by something else.

As a popular form of amusement the street carnival has about had its day and some towns have barred them out. That is a very good policy, according to our views, because beyond carrying out a lot of a community's ready cash they certainly accomplish very little.

WOOLING THE WILD FLAPPERS IN THEIR SUMMER HAUNTS—BY BUSHNELL

The Forum of the Press

Stop Debauching Our Youth.

(Port Worth Record)
One need not be at all praiseworthy or old-fashioned to come to the conclusion that there are too many young people staying up too late at night and drinking too much of something that addles brains and turns clean-cut boys into simpering things and sweet-faced girls into boisterous "good fellows."

It is only necessary that one stand on a downtown Main street corner, for a few hours after midnight, or hang about one of several downtown cafes during the same hours, to know just what is meant by the preceding paragraph and to come to exactly the same conclusion.

Some of the young people mentioned, and if one is any judge of ages, they ranged from a doubtful 14 to 16 up to somewhere in the middle thirties, are from other cities and towns. Some of them are from Port Worth and few of them, if dress and motor cars can be taken as evidence, are children of the tenements, or what is Port Worth's improved substitute for the tenements.

It is not necessary to quote what we did at the same age and where our mothers put us after the sun went down. We are willing to admit that times have changed, and if father must be at the club and mother at the bridge tournament, sonny and sister can not be expected to read "Pilgrim's Progress" or go to bed at eight any more. Not while the car is filled with gas and the roads are free.

But the sight of young girls seated on lunch room stools at 2 a. m. each with an accompanying "jelly bean," and all in the semi-hysterical and talkative state that spells "hoohoo" more plainly than the label, is not a pretty one for folks who have been brought up to the old-fashioned notion that being a man was the legitimate ambition of the young male, and that sweetness and purity were desirable attributes of femininity.

Perhaps some of the people who are getting very excited politically for fear that some one who says he is for legal sale of light wines and beers might get elected to office or some one who says he is for a bone-dry America might not, could do something worth while if they would see that the moral and physical poisoners who are selling this stuff to our boys and girls are put where they can not do any further harm.

It is easy to get people excited politically. What we need now is a little practical civic action on a specific thing that is going on right here and now.

Parents.

(Durant Democrat)
Edith Johnson, newspaper writer, says that fathers are largely to blame for the waywardness of modern children. She says that the mothers have too much to do now.

Whether we agree or not, we must admit that parents nowadays are too disinterested in their children. Mothers: Do you know where your daughter was last night?

Did you inquire where your son was from 9:00 until 1:00?

In an Oklahoma city not long ago a report was circulated that a young girl had been seriously injured in an accident. Between 1 and 6 o'clock in the morning twelve mothers had called the hospital to inquire if it might be their daughter!

Twelve mothers who did not know where their daughters were at such an unreasonable hour!
With a laugh a condition existing do-you wonder that people everywhere are exclaiming against the rising generation. There's nobody to look after them.

They're deserted! Where is the old fashioned parent who used to tell his son to "be back by nine?" He is now at the club himself and doesn't even see his son except at meal times, and evidently doesn't care a rap where his boy is or what he does.

The trouble isn't with the boys and girls. It's with the parents who have let golf and bridge and business take the place of their children.

Reformers would get further if they would spend less time deploring the result, and get down to business trying to remedy the cause. Reform the home—and the parents—and you will have reformed the young people!

POEM FOR TODAY

Life Sculpture
George W. Doane
Chisel in hand stood a sculptor boy
With his marble block before him,
And his eyes lit up with a smile of joy,
As an angel-dream passed o'er him

He carved the dream on that shapeless stone,
With many a sharp incision;
With heaven's own light the sculptor shone,
He'd caught that angel-vision.

Children of life are we, as we stand
With our lives uncarved before us,
Waiting the hour when, at God's command,
Our life dream shall pass o'er us.

If we carve it then on the yielding stone,
With many a sharp incision,
Its heavenly beauty shall be our own,
Our lives, that angel-vision.

Indiana Lady Had Something Like Indigestion Until She Took Black-Draught, Then Got All Right.

Seymour, Ind.—"Some time ago I had a sick spell, something like indigestion," writes Mrs. Clara Peacock, of Route 6, this place. "I would get very sick at the stomach, and spit or vomit, especially in the mornings. Then I began the use of Theodor's Black-Draught, after I had tried other medicines. The Black-Draught relieved me more than anything that I took, and I got all right. I haven't found anything better than Black-Draught when suffering from trouble caused by constipation. It is easy and sure. Can be taken in small doses or large as the case calls for."

When you have sick stomach, indigestion, headache, constipation, or other disagreeable symptoms, take Black-Draught to help keep your system free from poison.

Theodor's Black-Draught is made from purely vegetable ingredients acts in a gentle, natural way, and has no bad after-effects. It may be safely taken by young or old. Get a package of Black-Draught to-day. Insist on the genuine Theodor's. At your druggist's. NC-148

Mrs. R. A. Sullivan, 231 W. 6th St., says: "It was about ten years ago that I took Doan's Kidney Pills and I can tell anyone that they are just fine for kidney trouble. I had awful pains across my kidneys and my back was weak and lame. My back hurt so badly when I stooped I could hardly straighten again. Then, too, when I stooped I would get dreadfully dizzy spells and specks would come before my eyes, almost blinding me. Doan's Kidney Pills cured me of these troubles and I am very glad to recommend them to anyone who needs a kidney medicine."

THIRD ELEMENT IN THE VACUUM TUBE

Grid Added to Fleming Valve by Dr. Lee DeForest Was a Big Improvement.

Any device which will pass electricity in one direction and will wholly or partially obstruct the flow in the opposite direction is termed a rectifier, because when connected in the path of an alternating current it will suppress one-half of each cycle and therefore the circuit will be traversed by pulsating direct current. A rectifier also is said to possess unidirectional conductivity, meaning, of course, that it will conduct electricity in one direction of the grid circuit I-J-K-L. The battery in the grid circuit is called the "C" battery.

As a start let us suppose that "C" battery voltage is zero. The operation of the three-electrode tube would then be exactly like that of a two-electrode tube, just as though there were no grid. Like a two-electrode tube when the filament C-D is brought to incandescence by the "A" battery a steady stream of electrons will be given off, which will be drawn over to the plate E. Plate E is maintained at a positive potential with respect to the filament by the "B" battery.

Now if the grid is made positive with respect to the filament, it is possible to accelerate the flow of the electron stream from the filament to the plate; if the grid is made negative with respect to the filament, the flow of the electron stream from the filament to the plate will be retarded. Or in other words, by making the grid positive or negative with respect to the filament, it is possible to increase or counteract the space charge. The third electrode or grid thus offers a means of controlling the current in the

14 RUSSIAN PRISONERS SENTENCED TO DIE FOR TREASON UPON SOVIETS

(By the Associated Press)

MOSCOW, Aug. 9.—Sentences of death were given 14 of the 24 social revolutionists accused of high treason against the soviet government. The sentences were passed by the revolutionist tribunal before whom the revolutionists were tried. Among the convicted were several who turned informers.

Three of the others were acquitted and the remainder given prison sentences of from two to ten years. Sensation followed upon sensation in the drama of the Russian revolution which has been unfolded in the theatrical setting of the trial.

A Strange Court. The proceedings of the court were so different from the American and Western European conceptions of jurisprudence that, to the neutral observer, it seemed more of a thrilling melodrama than a serious trial in which human lives were at stake.

A brother was arrayed against his sister, former political companions were bitterly pitted against each other, and the sharp divisions made by the Russian civil war between former friends were displayed day by day in a colorful tableau set in a frame of bayonets.

Openly announcing that the proletarian system of justice was different from that of any other, the presiding judges of the revolutionary tribunal permitted far wider latitude to both prosecution and defense than could be imagined by an American jurist.

Prisoners were permitted to speak at will, to interrupt witnesses and to make long political addresses from the benches where they sat, day by day, guarded by khaki clad soldiers with bayoneted rifles. At one time some of the prisoners arose and threatened to withdraw from the trial. Again they argued with the presiding judge that the hours of sitting were too long.

Pelt Doom Coming. "They feel that they are doomed; for several years they have been imprisoned and now, while they have the chance, they are going to talk politics," one of the counsel for the defense said in explaining the prisoners' attitude.

From the very beginning of the trial on June 8 the principal defendants took the stand that they were responsible, not to the court, but to history and to their own consciences, and thereupon they began to carry on an unruly program that might well have shocked an American judge into having them put back in their cells and ordering the trial to go on without them.

Most of the court's rulings were against the defendants. Because of this Emil Vanderveke, Belgian once a minister in the Belgian cabinet, and a representative at the trial of the Second, or Amsterdam, Internationale withdrew in disgust and went back home. He had been permitted to enter Russia as counsel for the defense. With him went Herr Liebknecht, brother of Carl Liebknecht, the "martyr" Communist of Germany; Herr Rosenfeld and Herr Waters, the other foreign counsel sent in by the Socialist internationales to defend their political co-believers.

Representatives of the Third or Communist Internationale reached an agreement with the Amsterdam and Vienna, or the milder Internationales prior to the trial by which foreign counsel were to be admitted into Russia, and the defendants guaranteed against a death sentence. In return the other Internationales promised to call a congress for a "united front" of all the Internationales against capitalism. This conference, the Communists contend, was to have been convoked during the Genoa conference. This was not done, and the Russian representatives declared the agreement had been broken, placing the responsibility on the other Internationales. Therefore, the Russians announced, they were not bound to refrain from sentencing the social revolutionists to death.

The open propaganda made against the Socialist internationales in Moscow, and the repeated decisions of the court against the defense, aroused their ire more than has any event of the last 50 years and embittered the feeling between the once united "reds" and "pinks." Each side accused the other of bad

Death Is Demanded.

An event unprecedented in the history of courts the world over occurred June 20, the anniversary of the assassination of Commissar Volodarsky, one of the men whom the social revolutionists were accused of causing to be murdered. On that day in Moscow thousands of workmen were ordered to parade the streets and demonstrate, demanding the death of the defendants. Representatives of the demonstrators, despite the objections of the Russian lawyers who remained in court to defend the prisoners, were permitted to harangue the court, and the judges themselves thanked the mass of workmen for the "inspiration" they had given them.

The assistance given by the Social Revolutionists to American, English and French troops at Archangel and in other expeditions; the plots against the lives of Lenin and Trotsky, and other acts of alleged high treason were detailed in court in building up the case against the defendants. Most of the prisoners admitted they had worked against the Bolsheviks in the civil war, and some defiantly said they would continue to do so. But excepting a few who turned informers, they all denied participation in assassinations.

One of the most dramatic incidents in the long course of trials was when Gregory Rattner, one of the defendants, was on the stand. His sister, Eugene Rattner, also a prisoner and one of the principals among the accused, hysterically hurried interruptions at her brother, Alexander, demanding what had become of their other brother who had been killed by the Reds while demonstrating in Moscow in favor of the Constituent Assembly.

LIQUOR PIRATES THRILL FLORIDA

Booze Smugglers Held Up on High Seas But Can't Murmur of Loss.

(By the Associated Press)

MIAMI, FLORIDA. When Bobby hies himself to the hayloft or crawls under the house and in wide eyed wonder peruses a paper backed chronicle of Morgan, Captain Kidd, and other gentry who roamed the seas under the Jolly Roger, he usually expresses regret that he did not live a century or two ago so he could have joined the adventurers.

The boy may not know it, but these sea rovers are on the job again and the escapades of liquor pirates off the south-eastern coast of Florida and in the Bahamas, of recorded in a book, might cause Bobby to regard Morgan, Kidd, and Company with less awe. Morgan and Kidd were forced to depend upon sails for motive power but the modern pirate has a gasoline motor and sails to sea in a boat that will move faster than any sailing vessel ever built.

He overhauls a liquor runner, holds it up, steals all, or as much of its cargo as his vessel will carry, waves his hand to the luckless owner and disappears to land his loot at some unfrequented cove on the Florida coast. Others have landed on small keys in the Bahamas where cargoes of liquor for rum runners have been assembled, and raided the warehouses.

Reports Not Frequent

Official reports of piracy have not been frequent. The liquor smugglers who have been held up at sea charge the occurrence to profit and loss and make no complaint because they are law breakers, themselves. The pirates naturally do not tell about their operations but numerous stories of hold-ups and robberies leak out through underground sources and there is every indication that prohibition officers are not the only people the liquor runners are constantly on the lookout for.

Hanford Mobley, 18, held in jail at West Palm Beach as one of the four men charged with the robbery of the Bank of Stuart, at Stuart, Fla., several months ago, also has a piracy charge hanging over him. Just what part he is believed to have taken in a sea hold-up the federal authorities have not stated but they have announced that if Mobley was granted his liberty on bail, or was acquitted of the robbery charge, he would be arrested immediately on a federal warrant charging piracy.

The most recent case of alleged piracy to be made public officially resulted in the shooting to death of George Edgecomb, negro master of the British schooner William H. Albury, at Cat Key, in the Bahamas, a short distance from here, and the theft of between $2,000 and $3,000 from the vessel. The robbery occurred July 20. The Albury, according to British officials, has been engaged in the rum carrying trade between the Bahamas and Jamaica. Dody Carey, cashier aboard the Albury, was sent to Miami by the British Commissioner at Bimini, to tell the story of the hold-up to the British vice-consul and state and federal officials here.

The Albury was at anchor at Cat Key, Carey said, when an auxiliary schooner said to be the Falcon appeared. Three men were aboard the Falcon and after anchoring they boarded the Albury and informed Captain Edgecomb they wished to purchase a cargo of liquor. They were entertained by Edgecomb during the forenoon while the crew piled $2,100 worth of liquor on deck to be transferred to the Falcon, according to the account.

Bookkeeper "Stuck Up"

At noon the Albury's crew except Edgecomb and Carey went below. Carey was working on his books in his stateroom when one of the visitors appeared, pointed a pistol at him and ordered him to hand over what cash he had. Carey gave him more than $2,000. The other visitors in the meantime had gone below and covered the Albury's crew with pistols. Edgecomb was pacing the deck within view of the cabin when one of the men saw him. The master was ordered to enter but seeing the pistol turned his back. A shot was fired and the captain fell dead.

The crew of the Albury then was locked in the cabin and the visitors departed. The prisoners, Carey said, regained their liberty within a few moments.

The Falcon, which had been absent from Miami several days, having been loaned by its owner, to a man said to have recently been released from the Florida penitentiary, was found at her mooring in the harbor here the next morning, having entered port sometime during the night.

Music Company Asks Recovery Upon Fire Here Last November

Suits for the recovery of $20,000 on insurance policies carried by the Ada Music company, as the result of a fire which on November 11, 1921, destroyed part of the building and stock of the company, were filed Tuesday in the district court.

Five actions are included. Suits, together with the amount of money sought in each case, are: Old Colony Insurance company of Boston, $5,000; American Insurance company of Newark, N. J., $2,000; American Alliance Insurance company, $6,000; Hartford Fire Insurance company, $5,000; Camden Fire Insurance company, $2,000. Thomas P. Holt is representing the music house.

rection only. Its ability to rectify currents of extremely high frequency determines its application in radio.

Due to its ability to rectify high frequency alternating currents the two-element (filament and plate) vacuum tube can be used in a radio receiver as a detector.

Fig. VI is a simple radio receiving circuit employing this type of two-element vacuum tube in place of a crystal detector.

Dr. J. A. Fleming of London, England, was the first to use a two-element tube of the type just described as a medium of rectifying high frequency radio currents. Fleming called his product a valve because it would let current flow in one direction but not in the other direction. The Fleming valve was a forerunner of the vacuum tube of today.

plate circuit without changing the plate potential or the filament temperature.

The characteristic curve of a three electrode vacuum tube is shown in Fig. VIII. This diagram shows the relation of grid potential to plate current, assuming that the filament temperature and plate voltage remain constant.

It can be seen from the curve that by applying a negative potential of value E to the grid, the plate current can be reduced to zero. The negative charge on the grid will have the effect of a negative potential E with respect to the filament, making the negative charge so strong around the filament that the electrons cannot leave it. On the other hand, if a positive potential of value F is applied um tube of today marked a very important step in the progress of the radio art. The Fleming valve, however, in its original form was not much better than other forms of rectifiers then in use and, owing to the greater ruggedness and ease of manipulation of the latter, did not come into general use as a detector.

Dr. Lee DeForest, an American, greatly improved the Fleming valve by adding a third electrode called the grid, which served the function of a control element and thus made it possible to utilize the feeble incoming signals to control more powerful local currents. The three-electrode vacuum tube of DeForest is the tube used so extensively today.

The third element which is called a grid and from which the three-electrode vacuum tube derives its name was placed by DeForest between the filament and the plate in the path of the electrons. The grid is a perforated plate or mesh of fine wire through the openings of which the electrons must pass in their journey from the filament to the plate.

Fig. VII is a diagrammatic sketch of the circuits of a three-electrode vacuum tube and is identical with the same as the sketch in Fig. III for a two-element vacuum tube with the addition of the grid with respect to the filament, the maximum or saturation current will flow in the plate circuit. Applying a greater positive potential than F to the grid with respect to the filament will not cause an increase in the plate current because the electrons given off are being attracted to the plate and grid. When the grid is maintained positive with respect to the filament a small current will flow in the grid circuit. Because of its being positive it will attract the electrons and have a charge given up to it by them.

CHURCH UNION IS BELIEVED NEAR

All Christendom May Hold to One Creed, World Conference Says.

(By the Associated Press)

CHICAGO, Aug. 9.—Church union and the possibility of at Christendom recognizing one creed appear to be a step nearer than they have for many centuries according to a report of the commission on the World Conference on Faith and Order which will be submitted to the general convention of the Episcopal church in Portland, Ore., next month.

The report announces there will be a meeting in Washington, D. C., in May, 1925, of delegates from nearly a hundred denominations, from a score of countries, to discuss the possibilities of Christian union. This will be a reconvention of the body which met in Geneva in 1920. Of this gathering the report says "deep differences were manifested but all were convinced that great progress can be made." At the Washington conference all the denominations present at Geneva are expected, including Anglican, Baptist, Congregational, Czech, Armenian, Disciples, Eastern Orthodox, Friends, Lutheran, Methodist, Presbyterian and Reformed churches. Before the conference meets the committee suggests that fundamental questions shall be discussed, the report suggests are:

"1. What degree of unity in faith will be necessary in a reunited church?

"2. Is a statement of this one Faith in the form of a Creed necessary or desirable?

"3. If so, what Creed should be used? or what other formula would be desirable?

"4. What are the proper uses of a creed and of a confession of faith?"

All Have Some Good.

"Until Christians are agreed as to what the church is and the place and function of a Creed," the report continues, "It seems futile to take up other. It has been well said that there is no church which has not something of value to give to its sister churches or to receive from them. If we believe that, let us tests its truth."

"At Geneva it was proposed that special commissions should be created for the study of dogmatic, historical and liturgical questions, and those concerning ministerial orders and authorities, as affecting the differences between Christian communions; and that negotiations should be opened between related communions for closer fellowship as a step toward the goal of complete union."

"The Eastern Orthodox churches are now very hopeful as to the world conference."

"An encyclical letter of the Holy Orthodox Eastern church of Constantinople was issued in 1920, urging the promotion of closer relations of friendship among the churches, and to that end, (a) the acceptance of a uniform calendar; (b) the exchange of brotherly letters; (c) a more friendly intercourse between the representatives of the various churches; (d) an interchange between theological schools, and the exchange of theological and ecclesiastical periodicals; (e) the exchange of students between the seminaries of different churches; (f) the convening of pan-Christian conferences to examine questions of a common interest; (g) impartial and historical examination of doctrinal differences; (h) mutual respect for the customs and usages prevailing in each church; (i) mutual permission for the use of places of prayer and of cemeteries; (j) the settlement of the question of mixed marriages; and (k) the mutual support of the churches in the work of strengthening religious belief, of charity and the like. A favorable reply was made to this communication."

Weismuller is the Paddock of the swimming meets. He has broken a score of records this summer. And he's still going strong.

HIS ART

By MILDRED WHITE

Copyright, 1922, Western Newspaper Union.

"If you would but sing for me alone, Lisette," begged Gene, his dark eyes pleading.

The girl bent forward to touch placatingly the young man's head.

"Silly," she laughed, "when I have come all the way from America in order to perfect my voice. Do I ask you to give up your talent for me?"

"But to compose music is different," explained Gene.

Lisette considered him, her pretty head sidewise.

"What a joke that would be Gene," she said, "I to cross the ocean and leave my people, in the pursuit of art, then meeting a fellow student, and give up all for—love."

"A joke?" cried the young man. "Lisette, it is the serious thing in our lives. And see, you shall never be famous until you have the right song for your voice. I, a composer, know. They waste your talent, these directors, in little joyous nothings—your voice Lisette, it is your heart. So your heart must feel as you sing." Gene caught the girl's hand.

"I will write for you a song," he said, "a song of our love for each other; and you shall sing it for your public, if that is your desire, and they shall hear the love in your voice."

Lisette's eyes softened as they rested on the glowing, handsome face. "Will you, Gene?" she asked. "Oh, I know that I could sing your song, for always I should see your face as I sing. And I should feel in the song the expression of your love for me."

So Gene wrote for Elizabeth Wendell her famous song—the song and the voice to which a country listened in adulation.

The singer's name was given on the program as Lisette Wendell. And little Lizzie Wendell of Holcomb village seemed all unspoiled by her great success. Gene, triumphant, rapturous, became absorbed in a second song, which must outclass his first.

It was at this time that Lisette met the American. He was on business for his publishing house. Jack Landon was good looking. The idolized young singer enjoyed the contrast. Unknown to herself, Gene's sentimentality had grown wearisome. And it happened that Jack, falling suddenly in love, but as sure of himself as ever, asked Elizabeth Wendell to marry him, knowing nothing of Gene, the musician. Gene had sought no profit from his song; it had been dedicated to Lisette and as such, was in his opinion, her property, made successful through her gift.

Jack Landon never listened to the tender song, rendered so sympathetically, that he did not marvel how the lovely singer had given herself to him.

Gene, in his fever of inspiration, scarcely realized the lapse of time, or that on his two or three visits to Lisette she had appeared preoccupied and distracted. So when she came one day to his studio, he greeted her smilingly.

"It is coming beautifully, beloved," he said, speaking of the composition which was his one thought.

"Gene," she began haltingly. "It was all a mistake, our fancied love. I must not see you any more."

Vaguely understanding, Gene waited before her. At length he spoke. His voice was so strangely calm.

"A mistake? Very well then. You need see me no more, Lisette. Is there there another?"

Dumbly the girl nodded.

"I feel," trembled Lisette, "almost as though I had stolen your song—and left you nothing."

His dark eyes alight, he whirled upon her.

"Left me nothing? What more could you give me than the assurance of my skill?"

Jack Landon was displeased, Lisette could see, when she confessed to him concerning Gene.

"Too bad," he exclaimed, frowning; then drew her arm through his.

"After all, you could not prevent the emotional musician from falling in love with you, I suppose. And it would be natural in your loneliness to fancy yourself in love with him. Time may show us a way to compensate in a measure."

Lisette again went to the studio.

The composer was at his piano—only Gene could touch the keys with magic fingers. As she hesitated, listening, came a voice singing. A contralto voice this, unlike her own, but sweet—oh, very sweet. Noiselessly, that she might not disturb, Lisette stepped inside the room. The singer, a small worshipful person, stood admiringly at Gene's side. At sight of the famous Lisette Wendell, the girl, abashed, slipped away. Still under the influence of his dream, the composer came toward her.

"I was anxious about you, Gene," faltered Lisette. "I had to come to see if you might have cared—too much."

Gene smiled. "I do care very much, Lisette—for my song. But a song of love, is not I find, the reality. And there is no longing which my music cannot satisfy. So that is well discovered—and as it should be—an artist's love, his art."

Gene was at the piano as she left the room. Jack waited at the outer door. "Everything all right?" he questioned, cheerfully.

"Everything all right," Lisette replied.

SERVICE CLAIMS MANUAL COMPILED BY ADJUTANT

Leon H. Brown, assistant department adjutant, has completed a four months task of compiling a Service Claims Manual for use of the Service Division of Department Headquarters. The manual was published by the Legion and sent to all posts. It outlined in detail the method of preparing and filing claims for disabled men. The Veterans Bureau has stated that if its instructions are followed much time will be saved in adjudicating claims by the Bureau. The manual is being used by service officers retained by all posts to aid ex-service men, with the aid of Bernard A. Kellner of Pawnee, who is in charge of the Service Division at state headquarters. Many men who did not know posts of the Legion rendered this service to all ex-service men enrolling as members of the post that helps them and their families in time of need.

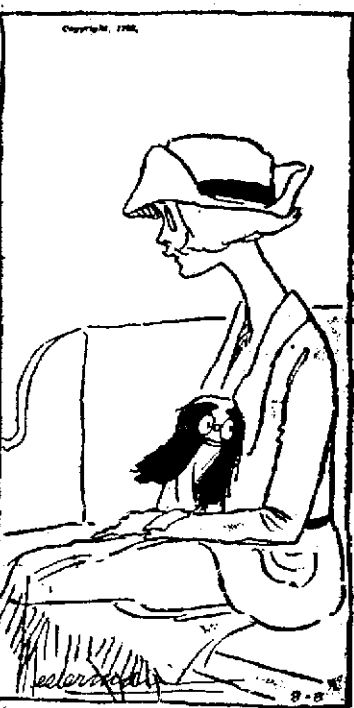

LOW FARE IS SECURED FOR STATE CONVENTION

The American Legion has secured a one and one-half fare for the round trip to the state convention at Bartlesville September 11-12. Persons taking advantage of the rate must be members of the Legion or Auxiliary or dependent members of their families, and must obtain reduced fare certificates from their local Legion post or auxiliary unit. Department headquarters of the Legion is expecting a supply of the certificates in a few days and will distribute them.

Carnival Is Success.

Maggart Post No. 26, Pawnee, last week put over in grand style a home talent carnival, making a big financial success, according to Joe Furgerson, then publicity man. A Japan sword fighters exhibition was a big feature, as was a boxing match and a wrestling match between two Pawnee Indians. A Ford car was given away to Alfred Seavers who drew the lucky number.

THE YOUNG LADY ACROSS THE WAY

The young lady across the way says the little things that shape our destinies and the goose cackling destroyed Rome.

Cupie racks, confetti vendors, a dancing floor and every carnival attraction helped the affair. The Legion donated one-half the funds for park improvements in the city. The balance will be used to help build the Legion home.

Choice of Bunks.

Oklahomans will have choice of three kinds of bunks at New Orleans during the Legion Convention next October. They may stay at hotels at the rate of $1.50 a day without bath or $2.50 a day with bath, three men to a room; they may charter a Pullman car from their home town, and sleep in it at New Orleans and return home in it at a rate of about $2.00 per day including Pullman fare; or they may carry their own bed linen with them and sleep in a Tent City to be erected at rates of probably 25c or 50c a day.

Paris Tightens Purse.

The reunion of Civil War, Spanish-American, and World War veterans at Bridgeport will be held August 16, 17, 18, 19 instead of September 28 as at first planned. August 17 will be American Legion Day. For particulars write J. W. McPherson, secretary at Bridgeport.

Provide Trash Cans.

Ponca Post No. 14 provided Ponca City with waste paper cans on all street corners. The name and number of the post is displayed prominently where it can be read and considered by visiting Legionnaires as an invitation to attend meetings of the post.

Open Tubercular Camp.

The New York American Legion recently opened its Adirondack camp for tubercular world war veterans. The service men paid $85,000 for the site and have expended many more thousands on equipment in an effort to make inroads into the rapidly increasing ranks of veterans who are suffering with the disease.

ARDMORE—A crowded criminal court docket will be opened before Judge M. F. Winfrey when county court starts in regular session here Monday, August 14, for a week's grind.
